

BRIEFLETS.

—Some sprinkles.
—The lamp-post war continues.
—Rev. Mr. Jones has started for two weeks trip in Iowa and Indiana.
—Dr. Sutherland's little boy is recovering from the effects of his accident.
—It is a boy and a bright one, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Valentine is made still more happy.
—C. E. Bowles the singer man, has a new buggy, light and nobby, for use in attending to the city trade.
—Miss M. E. Gould is visiting Chicago, the guest of Mrs. E. Osgood, and will attend the Grant reception.
—Miss Ida Clapp, of Fort Atkinson, has been making Miss Hattie Dearborn of this city, a brief visit, and returned to-day.
—D. D. Bennett's singing school will not meet to-night, owing to his being called to Chicago with the band, but will meet Thursday evening as usual.
—In the Circuit Court to-day the case of Taylor vs. Pratt was on trial, the bone of contention being some barrels of whisky which each officer sought to attach.
—Attorneys Winans and Fethers were called by telegraph to Madison this afternoon to look after Mrs. Mack's case, which will probably come before the Supreme Court to-morrow.
—Mr. S. B. Bowerman is now canvassing the city and county for the "Life and Travels of General Grant." The work is a valuable one, and as it is reasonable in price all can afford to buy it.
—Sheriff Comstock returned at 2 o'clock this morning from Waupun, where he left Christiansen in the care of the State Prison officials. Christiansen showed no change of mind or mood to the very last.
—The Janesville Guard and the Bower City Band left this afternoon for Chicago, to take part in the Grant reception. The boys show up nicely, and will doubtless make a good impression in the big city.
—We regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmitt formerly of Harmony, and now of Grandview, Minnesota, have been bereaved by the loss of their son Clarence, notice of whose death appears in another column.
—Charley Wheeler has decided to try living in Topeka, Kansas, where he is engaged in the railroad machine shop. He went to Chicago with the band, to lay, of which he is leader, and will then go to Topeka. His family will remain here for the present.
—The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, this morning, was conducted by Rev. Henry Fawcett. The morning meeting Rev. Henry Fawcett will lead. Topic—"A man prospered beyond precedent, but unsatisfied." Fawcett's text: 2:1-11 and John 1:13-14.
—A house on West Milwaukee street, belonging to Father Doyle, had a narrow escape from another fire last Sunday. The blaze started from a defective flue, but was discovered in time to be suppressed by Marshal Russell and John Brown, before any great damage was done.
—The Mutual Improvement Club studied "The Merchant of Venice" last evening. Mrs. Jones spoke of the prominent position occupied by the Jew in history. Miss Baker spoke of the Jew in literature. Miss Ida Harris gave a study of Portia. Informal discussions were sandwiched in between the papers, and an interesting and instructive evening resulted from the gathering.
—There was another pleasant gathering of friends last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith. In spite of the rain there were a goodly number, who by the aid of carriages, availed themselves of the chance to share the proffered hospitalities, and within the parlors all was in bright and happy contrast with the dark and drizzly outside world. The occasion was a happy one, and all enjoyed it heartily.
—We are in receipt of the Hawaiian Gazette, published at Honolulu, containing a marriage notice, which will prove of interest to Janesville folk. The contracting parties were George P. Ogle, of Honolulu, and Miss Ida M. daughter of L. P. Tenney, of Pihau, Hilo, Hawaii. The marriage occurred at the latter place on the 17th of October. Miss Tenney, now Mrs. Castle, is well known here, where her family so long resided, and her friends will be all join in the wishes for a limitless amount of present and future happiness for her and hers.
—The Banner and Volk Freund, of Milwaukee, states that Christiansen has been in the penitentiary before, and that he served two years in Minnesota for robbery. There is also strong suspicion that he was the one who robbed a house in Milwaukee county of a quantity of silverware some time ago, and letters have been written to the officers here concerning it. Those, added to the statement that he killed a man in the South "in self defense," go to make up a bad record for this man, before he committed this last horrible murder.
—Richard O'Donnell, the janitor of the Court House merits a good word. He keeps that building fairly shining with neatness, and would be to do so when he speaks it and he is quite sure to say it, if it is there. He not only keeps the building in the best possible condition, but the figures show that he is very economical and does not let the supplies run to waste. He keeps close track of coal and lights, and yet he sees that everybody is made comfortable. It is no easy task to be a good janitor, but O'Donnell seems to have captured the art. Added to his other good qualities he is always a good natured and attentive. In fact he is a good one, and we express the feelings of many in saying so.

THE WEATHER.

WRETCHED WRANGLING.

The City Fathers Squander an Evening in Speech-Making and Mutual Abuse.

Much Talk, Much Voting, Little Business.
More Boys' Play.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council last evening the Mayor presided, and all the Aldermen were present. The reports of the Board of Education, and Police Justice were presented and referred. The following petition was also read:

JANESVILLE, WIS., Oct. 25, 1879.
To His Honor the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville:
GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned, tax-payers of the Fifth ward, have been informed that there has been work done in the Fourth ward that has been paid for out of the Fifth ward fund; also there has been a road made leading to the slaughter-house in Monterey, that does not belong to the Fifth ward; also there has been gravel hauled from Second ward when it could be had in the Fifth ward less than one-half the distance to haul; also teams did not work ten (10) hours for a day's work. We would respectfully ask your honorable body not to pass any Fifth ward bills until this matter has been investigated and settled.

E. C. SMITH, O. B. FORD, JAMES MADSEN, JOHN MITCHELL, RICHARD O'DONNELL, H. CHASE, J. BLEASDALE.
Ald. Burns thought that the names had been got under false pretenses. Mr. Ford told him that when he signed it he thought it was for a continuation of the old investigation of the ward fund, and probably there were others who had also signed it under this false impression.
Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that it be received and placed on file.
Ald. Burns wanted to know if such action would stop the payment of the bills. The Mayor thought not. Ald. Fitzgibbon likewise assured his colleague, and the motion was carried unanimously.

Ald. Fitzgibbon then moved that the petition be granted, and that the matter be referred to the Judiciary Committee for investigation, they to report in writing at the next meeting. Carried.
Ald. Vankirk presented a petition signed by the butchers asking the Council to prohibit the sale of meats by peddlers on the street corners. Received and placed on file, and on motion of the same Alderman the City Attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance in compliance with that request.

Ald. Davies presented a petition of James Blair, asking permission to erect a frame building on Jackson street, for storing lumber. It being explained that it did not increase fire risks it was granted.

Ald. Fitzgibbon, of the Gas Committee, called attention to the difference in the amount of gas burned in the two engine houses. This quarter No. 1, had used about $6 more than No. 2, and last quarter it was the reverse. He passed the bill's over to the Finance Committee, without recommendation, also bills of C. W. Baker, for printing, one being endorsed by the City Clerk, and the other by Robert Williams when they ought to be ordered by some Alderman, or else sworn to.

The same Alderman presented an order for a lamp-post on Ann street midway between Cornelia and William streets. Ald. Vankirk objected to the location, as being too near one post and too far from the other. Ald. Fitzgibbon said it seemed as if fault was always being found with him. He didn't like so much fight over lamp-posts. The Council was kept in session till 11 and 12 o'clock right after night, staying there until they had to break the quorum in order to adjourn, and then have the papers "cuss" them for that.

Ald. Vankirk said he was on the Committee but had not been consulted. A round of discussion followed, and Ald. Fitzgibbon moved the previous question. The Mayor put the question as being on the order presented for the lamp-post, and the motion thus stated was carried. Ald. Burns alone voting in the negative. All seemed satisfied at this way of voting on "the previous question," and the matter was dropped.

The City Treasurer's report for October was reported as correct and filed.
The regular report of the Finance Committee was presented. Ald. Fitzgibbon asked that the Fifth ward bills be withdrawn from the file of bills thus reported on, and called attention to the petition of tax-payers, which the Council had just granted.
Ald. Burns was aroused. These men had got to have their money. If the Council was going to be bullied by this man's false statement, those men must get their pay some other way.
Ald. Fitzgibbon interrupted him, and amidst calls for order, Ald. Burns told his colleague very sharply to "sit down."

Ald. Fitzgibbon said he would not sit down. He was not going to sit still and be abused.
The little scene was ended by the Mayor who called Ald. Fitzgibbon to order, and warned Ald. Burns not to be personal.
Ald. Burns insisted that when he said false statements had been made, he meant what he said, and could prove it.
Mayor Cobb told him that he had no right to say that the Council was being bullied, and on that he would call him to order.
Ald. Burns said that he would call him to order, and said that it was not his place to say that the men should be paid, and that that was the reason he said that. That was all right, wasn't it?
The Mayor thought that that was sound but the members had got in the habit of calling men liars, and telling of bull-dozing, and that it must stop. If members had personal quarrels they must settle it elsewhere. In the Council they must be gentlemen.

Ald. Burns said that Ald. Fitzgibbon had kept getting these bills put on, and some of the men threatened to sue the city. He had settled some of these bills himself in order to stop them. It was not taken, there was another way to settle it. He had heard worse language than that which he used, and had seen members even ignore the Mayor's rulings, and leave the room, after he had refused to excuse them. He did not want to be singled out for the Mayor to make a point on him.
The Mayor explained that he had been to the Council's rulings, and that he had made up his mind that more courtesy and better order should prevail. Ald. Burns was unfortunately the first member to be subjected to this new discipline, and he did not mean to make any special point on him, but was going henceforth to serve all alike in this respect. As to Ald. Fitzgibbon leaving the room, he did a wrong thing, and he would say so himself. Ald. Fitzgibbon then said that he had already begged the Mayor's pardon for that and would again beg it in open Council. As to the petition he said he had nothing to do with it, and he objected to his colleague's charges of misrepresentation. Under the motion granting the petition, he could not see how the bills could be allowed. If the men couldn't wait for their money let them sue. He had never made misrepresentations, and he defied proof. He thought Mr. Ford and the others were too wise to sign a petition unless they knew what was in it.

Ald. Barnes could see no harm in letting the bills wait until the next meeting, but Ald. Church denounced the sharp practices and dilatory motions by which payment was being continually put off. It had gone far enough, and they ought to take the bill by the horns, and do something.
The Mayor decided that the Fifth ward bills should be withdrawn. By request of Ald. Church, the bill of John and William Brown was also withdrawn, it being for $6 for cleaning the hay market. The rest of the Finance Committee's report was adopted.

The Council then indulged in a tedious wrangle about the Brown bill, some claiming it should be paid from the general fund, the haymarket being public property. Others insisted that it was not public property, but was simply Franklin street, and the First ward should keep it clean. The haymarket proper was one block further north, but the farmers had got into the habit of stopping on Franklin street near the Corn Exchange, but it was not public property.

Ald. Davies insisted that for five years the bill for cleaning this place had been paid out of the general fund, and that Ald. Church, who now opposed it, had always voted for it before. Ald. Church said he did not believe it, and Ald. Davies quickly offered to back his assertion by a $10 bet. It was not taken. Ald. Davies moved that it be paid from the general fund. Ald. Fitzgibbon moved as an amendment that it be paid from the First ward fund. This was lost, Ald. Barnes, Burns, Church and Vankirk, voting alone in its favor. Ald. Davies' motion was also lost, Ald. Croft, Davies, Fitzgibbon, Joyce and Robinson voting for it.

Ald. Davies then moved that the Marshal be instructed to keep Franklin street clear of teams, and make the hay men move onto the block north designated as the proper market.
Ald. Fitzgibbon thought that they ought not to be too arbitrary with the farmers. He thought Brown ought to get his pay for cleaning up the filth, and was wandering still further from the question when he was called to order, and saying "All right, good morning" took his seat.

Ald. Davies moved the question be put at once. He couldn't sit there and see the people of the First ward robbed of their hard earnings.
Ald. Croft, said if the market place was one block north it ought to be kept there, and then get rid of the filth on Franklin street, and get rid of the stench which sometimes made him shut the front doors of his store.

Ald. Barnes thought the custom of stopping on Franklin street was too old to be now broken up.
Ald. Burns said that it was much less of a nuisance there than it would be one block north, where it would be right in front of residences.

The City Attorney answered a question of Ald. Croft, by saying that the only way to clear the street was to commence proceedings against anyone stopping in the street. They couldn't be made to move on.
Ald. Robinson paid a facetious tribute to his fellow members who so delighted in speech-making. He then gave his opinion that if the Council could not make the hay men and the wood men move on to the appointed market place, the Council could not make men stop selling meat on the street corners. He believed the Marshal could make them move on.

Ald. Davies said the Council had decided differently. His motion to clear the streets was lost, Ald. Croft, Davies, Joyce and Robinson voting for it.
Ald. Fitzgibbon reported back without recommendation the order for a lamp-post on the southeast corner of Dodge and High streets, near the Central school building, there being no main there. He also reported back without recommendation the order providing for the furnishing of blanks on which to make out bills against the city. The latter report was received and placed on file, but the former called for a motion.

On motion of Ald. Croft, the Fire Committee were authorized to sell the truck and ladder at a high price, as they were in order to replace them by new apparatus. The motion of the opening of Jackson street was laid over until the next meeting. Ald. Church presented an order for payment of order on the South First street grading fund; also in favor of paying clerks and inspectors of election. Both carried.

On motion of Ald. Davies, the Springfield Block "caveat bill" was referred to the City Attorney for his opinion as to whether it should be paid from the city.
Ald. Church moved that the City Attorney be paid $1 to give his opinion as to whether money paid from the general fund could be referred to another fund. Carried.

Ald. Davies moved that the order for the payment of clerk's bills monthly instead of quarterly, be reconsidered. This was carried, but the Council did not seem to agree as to what the effect of that motion was. Ald. Davies and Fitzgibbon insisted that there was no motion before the house. Others that by reconsidering the vote the motion was before the house now for action, as though it had not been acted on at all. The Mayor decided that the latter was the right view, and Ald. Davies sought to amend the motion by having the bills paid quarterly. He was urged to state his reasons, but did not choose to give any. The Mayor ruled his amendment out of order, because the city was already paying its gas bills quarterly. The motion to pay them monthly was then put and lost. Ald. Barnes, Burns, Church and Vankirk, voting alone for it, and the others six against it.

The vote on Brown's bill was then reconsidered, and a motion was made that it be paid from the general funds. Ald. Fitzgibbon moved the previous question. Ald. Burns wanted to know what this meant. The Mayor explained that it cut off debate, and the motion prevailed, Ald. Croft, Cox, Davies, Fitzgibbon, Joyce and Robinson voting aye, and Ald. Barnes, Burns, Church and Vankirk voting nay. The debate still kept up though, and finally the motion to pay Brown's bill was put and carried by the same vote of 6 to 4 as above.

The Judiciary Committee reported in favor of giving an auctioneer's license to G. W. Wheeler & Co. Adopted.
The same committee reported in favor of asking the Justice to reopen the case of the City vs. Hagarty, in which the city had taken judgment of $5, on account of Attorney Winans' neglect to appear for the defendant. Adopted.

Ald. Church presented an order for a lamp-post at southeast corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, on the south side of the crossing, and under the direction of Ald. Joyce.
Ald. Fitzgibbon amended by authorizing the removal of the middle post of the three on the Milwaukee street side of that block, and locating it as above under his own direction.

There was another wordy discussion over this, but it was finally carried and the original motion as thus amended also prevailed. Ald. Barnes, Church and Vankirk voting against both.

Adjournment was then taken. Time, 10:30 o'clock.

We can recommend St. James' Oil to our readers, for it is really a good remedy.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Thomas Baker Killed at Albany New York Last Night.

The sad news has flashed over the wires that Thomas Baker was killed last night at Albany, New York. How death came is not stated, but he was doubtless killed by the cars, as he was in the employ of the railroad company, and had charge of the yards, and the switching at that place. Mr. Baker's father Mr. John Baker, a well known resident here, as are also his two other sons Joseph P. Baker, of the firm of Stearns & Baker, and John Baker Jr., who is in the employ of the Northwestern railroad company here. Deceased formerly lived here, removing to Albany about six years ago. He leaves a wife and two children. His wife is a sister to Alderman Cox's wife of this city. The news of Mr. Baker's sudden death will sadly surprise his many old friends and acquaintances here, who speak in high terms of his many qualities. The bereaved father left this afternoon for Albany, where his son's remains will probably be interred, as Mrs. Baker has relatives and friends living there and looks upon that place as a home.

OUT OF THE ASHES.

There is promised a rich treat at the Opera house to-morrow evening, it being "The Phoenix," presented by Milton Noble and his dramatic company. There are plenty of witnesses in our own city, who have seen the play, and who are willing to testify to its merit. Here is what they say about it elsewhere, it being from the Memphis Appeal:
A very large audience greeted the first appearance of that gifted author and comedian at the Opera house last night, and for happily blended mirth with humor, "The Phoenix" has never been surpassed. It is a drama that not only to the company, but is full of interest to those who are habituated to every phase of the drama. There is nothing more thrilling and exciting than the fire scene and the wonderful gambling scene in this masterpiece of American drama. The role of the Bohemian and detective is admirably adapted to Mr. Noble, and in his own play, "The Phoenix," he performs it so fully that but few actors have and many years for. Mr. Schwartz, in his character of Mr. Salomons, is the best Dutch comedian on the stage. The company is a strong one, and seems to have been selected carefully for their respective parts, which they perform to perfection. Entertainment like the one last night are a rare treat to our community, and the opera house will be crowded the three remaining nights of Mr. Noble's engagement.

WORTHY WORDS.

The Green Bay Gazette gives the following words of praise, no doubt well merited, to Col. L. B. Sale, brother of District Attorney Sale, of this city:
Prominent among the Republican workers who have been active, zealous, and untiring in their efforts to win the grand victory which has perched upon the banners of the Republican party in Brown county, is Col. L. B. Sale, of this city, the ye-able and valuable member of the Republican State Central Committee for the 6th Congressional District. As an organizer, and as an astute politician of the best type, there are very few equals of Col. Sale in Wisconsin, and his counsel is always wise and his leadership uniformly successful. The Republicans of Brown county fully recognize and appreciate Col. Sale's services in the last—as in other campaigns—and gladly accord to him the full measure of praise which is so justly his due.
